

District 3

Jamie Lowry, athletic director, Scottsburg

Jamie Lowry is in his ninth year as athletic director at Scottsburg after previously working in sales and in the golf industry. He is recognized for his support of Indiana high school basketball throughout his tenure in an administrative role.

A 1988 graduate of Scottsburg, Lowry participated in basketball and cross country for the Warriors. He attended Franklin College and Indiana University Southeast, earning a bachelor's degree from IUS in 1994.

Lowry started his professional career in sales, with Hoosier Hills Awards in Scottsburg from 1993-98 and then with Larry Dismore & Associates from 1998-2000. He moved to the golf industry as a pro shop consultant at Scottsburg's Westwood Golf Course from 2000-07, then as served as general manager of the facility from 2007-16 prior to joining the athletic staff at his alma mater.

He also was a broadcaster for Scottsburg basketball radio from 1998 to 2013 and created a Scottsburg basketball website in 2003 that still is maintained and updated.

Lowry twice has been recognized by Indiana Interscholastic Athletic Administrators Association. He won an IIAAA District V Distinguished Service Award in 2006 for his contributions as a broadcaster and to the Scottsburg basketball website. He later was cited as the IIAAA District V Athletic Administrator of the Year in 2022.

Lowry and his wife, Jennifer, have two children – daughter, Reese, 16, and son, Andrew, 11.
