Floyd Central High School

In the last two decades, Floyd Central has been repeatedly recognized as an outstanding high school at the state and national level. Floyd Central has been named an Indiana Four Star School eighteen times, awarded IB diplomas and currently offers an AP Capstone program.

Floyd Central has a student population of 1,827 students (grades 9-12) offering 23 varsity sports plus cheerleading and dance teams.

Highlander Girl's Basketball Program

The facilities at Floyd Central include two gymnasiums with our main gym seating 2,500. In 2010, the main game gym was renovated which included new bleachers, locker rooms, and coaches offices. The weight room has also taken on an $225,000+ renovation in 2019 and is led by a certified strength and conditioning coach. The locker rooms received another significant improvement in 2023.

As a member of the Hoosier Hills Conference, Floyd Central has earned the Conference All-Sport Championship 29 of the past 33 years. This past fall, every team won the conference title and was undefeated in HHC action.

The leader we are searching for must be a person of unquestionable morals and ethical principles who will support and nurture the high scholastic philosophies of our school and community. This person must oversee the basketball program year-around with a constant awareness of improving the skill level of the student athlete.
