Championship Culture Coaching Clinic

In this fast-paced world, culture and support have never been more important for our high school athletes. They need us, their coaches, more than ever. We're not just here to improve their game but also to serve as solid role models and to provide much-needed support. Our roles transcend beyond the field or court, impacting our athletes, our schools, and our communities profoundly. An impactful culture is usually a championship culture in sport and in life.

Mike Price- Oak Hills in Cincinnati

Mike Price, renowned Head Basketball Coach at Oak Hills High School, is an inspiring figure with a commendable career spanning over 45 years. Throughout his journey, Mike has demonstrated an unwavering commitment to both academic and athletic excellence of students, serving as a Business Education Teacher for 43 years at Oak Hills. With a coaching record of 442-287, he has led the school's basketball team to two Boys' Basketball Cincinnati City Championships, solidifying his legacy in the sport.

His extraordinary contributions extend beyond the boundaries of his school. With 36 years of experience coaching AAU, Mike has guided his teams to over 2650 wins and more than 150 Tournament Championships. Over 500 student athletes under his tutelage have gone on to play college basketball, showcasing the effectiveness of his coaching philosophy. His distinguished service has been recognized with his appointment as the Ohio AAU Chairman for over 10 years and the founder of Cincinnati AAU.

With multiple recognitions such as City and League Coach of the Year titles and being twice named the Greater Cincinnati Basketball Hall of Fame Coach of the Year, Mike's coaching career serves as an exemplar for coaches across all sports. His robust combination of dedication, leadership, and ability to cultivate winning teams underscores the vital lessons every coach can glean from his journey. Mike Price is a true luminary in the coaching fraternity whose experiences and insights resonate with all who coach and mentor the next generation of athletes.

Matt Moore- Warsaw Community High School

Matt Moore, the distinguished head coach at Warsaw Community High School, has built an esteemed coaching career spanning 22 years, distinguished by his signature "Princeton style" approach and dedication to cultivating a culture of team unity. Achieving a commendable tally of 191 career wins across high school and collegiate levels, Coach Moore's legacy is a testament to his unwavering commitment to fostering a culture of success, teamwork, and respect.

Under Moore's dynamic leadership, each program he has guided has seen groundbreaking success. His tenure at WCHS has been marked by the highest number of wins (45) in the first three seasons since 1974, a testament to his ability to swiftly establish winning cultures. Previous accomplishments include transforming Fishers into a formidable contender within the Hoosier Crossroads Conference and setting the record for most wins in the first three years at Kokomo. These records underline his talent for quickly identifying and nurturing the inherent potential within a team, and building a culture centered on achieving excellence together.

Coach Moore's career, characterized by his immediate impact at every post, is a beacon of inspiration for high school coaches seeking to build a successful program. His ethos centers on creating a strong culture that celebrates teamwork and fosters individual growth, essential for any sporting discipline. His story underscores the idea that a coach's real triumph lies not only in the accolades achieved but also in the enduring values instilled in their teams, shaping them into resilient, unified, and passionate athletes. Whether it's high school or college, Moore's journey eloquently articulates that with the right culture, any team can attain success on and off the court in old school tough fashion.

Scott McClelland- Noblesville High School

Scott McClelland, a seasoned basketball coach and educator, hails from Muncie, Indiana. A former athlete himself, he played basketball at Ancilla College before shifting gears to earn his teaching license at Ball State University. He now resides in Fishers, Indiana with his wife of 24 years, Sonja, and their twelve-year-old daughter Anna. Currently, he serves as the Head Boys Basketball Coach at Noblesville High School, leaving a profound impact on his players and the basketball community.

McClelland began his coaching journey in 1995 at Yorktown High School, which laid the foundation for an illustrious career. Over time, he transitioned from girls to boys' basketball, showing versatility and adaptability. His coaching stints include roles at Wapahani, Blue River Valley, Cathedral, Scecina, Morristown, Brebeuf, Western Boone and back to Morristown with each move punctuated by increased team success and player advancement to college level basketball. His leadership has resulted in multiple championship wins, including the transformative state championship in 2018 with Morristown Jr. Sr. High School.

Since 2021, McClelland has been driving Noblesville High School's basketball program to new heights. He led the team to win the 2023 Sectional 8 Championship, the first in 13 years. With back-to-back winning seasons and the most wins in a season since the 2009-2010 season, he has truly revitalized the program. McClelland's resilient coaching philosophy, combined with his commitment to player development, serves as a prime example for coaches across all sports, reminding us of the transformative power of determination, mentorship, and genuine passion for the game.

Dr. David Pillar- Official

Join us in welcoming Dr. David Pillar to our coaching clinic, a respected figure in both the academic and athletic arenas. A veteran high school basketball official and educator, David's passion for basketball was kindled during his tenure as a student manager for Indiana University Men's Basketball under legendary Coach Bob Knight and Mike Davis. David has been the official scorekeeper for IU Men's Basketball since the 1999-2000 season. As an IHSAA Basketball Official for 24 seasons, David has earned a reputation for his commitment to fair play, respect, and integrity. His tenure includes involvement in 18 Sectionals, 13 Regionals, 8 Semi-States, and 8 State Finals games, and his work has been recognized with accolades such as the 2014 IHSAA Girls Basketball Official of the Year. David's influence extends beyond the court as an active IHSAA Rules Clinician and member of the MidState and Fall Creek Officials Associations, reinforcing a culture of respect towards officials.

David's academic journey mirrors his sporting prowess. He holds a B.S. in Secondary Education from Indiana University, a Master's degree from Indiana Wesleyan, and a Doctorate in Educational Leadership from Ball State University. Over the last 23 years, David has dedicated his expertise to the Monroe County Community School Corporation, transitioning through roles such as Social Studies Teacher, Assistant Principal, Middle School AD, Middle School Principal, and Alternative High School Principal, and is currently the Assistant Director of Hoosier Hills Career Center.

David's unique blend of sports officiating and academic leadership brings a fresh perspective to our clinic. He stands as a testament to the impact of fostering a positive culture towards officials, emphasizing mutual respect, fairness, and the power of education in athletic development. David's work with RefReps, an Indiana-based education technology company, epitomizes this, as he helps to nurture the next generation of sports officials. Dr. Pillar's passion and commitment to sportsmanship and education make him an invaluable asset to coaches across all sports, and we are eager for you to learn from his extensive knowledge and experience.
